DigitalOcean	Netlify/Vercel

and many more along the way...

Employment

2020	Founder of PageNotFound
— present	I created my own freelance business under the alias of PageNotFound. I am responsible for the whole process of handling clients, designing UI and UX then developing the product. Usually, I choose Next.js and Strapi for my stack.
2021	Webdeveloper at ALTRD Studio
— present	As a freelancer, I am working closely with a small design studio. They create amazing UI and UX designs while I am working on the implementations. The clients belong to the studio.
2020	Frontend developer at Coding Sans
— 2020	I was part of a team working on rewriting a complete enterprise-level web application in Angular for Servelec, a healthcare company in the UK. We used agile methodology for project management.
